

GEORGE SKENE/ORLANDO SENTINEL

Testing the water

University of Central Florida chemistry student Crissie Koums (left) shows girls from Tampa Preparatory School the reactions of dry ice in water at the Orlando Science Center. She represented the student affiliate of the American Chemistry Society at last week's celebration of the achievements of women in science.